Hon. A. S. Hanna and wife were among the prominent arrivals at the Ocala House Saturday.

Hon. Robert A. Harford returned Saturday afternoon from a short visit to his residence in Fla., Ala.

Messrs. A. D. Mitchell and Sims Dillard were the representatives of Summerfield in Ocala Saturday.

Mr. John Neel, of McIntosh, and Mr. Dixon J. Davis, of Orange Lake, were prominent visitors to our city Monday.

The most reliable preparation for kidney trouble on the market is Foley's Kidney Cure. Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

The Ocala House, Ocala, Florida, was recently visited by Tallahassee Governor H. H. H. His speech was a literary gem.

Ocala has been exceedingly quiet this week. There has been no mayors court for several days, and no disturbances of any kind.

Maternal poison, child and fever are positively cured by using Robert's Chill Tonic. Take your money back if it fails. Wm. Anderson.

Rumors are all that Hon. W. K. Zewadski will make the race for the state senate and Hon. Edwin Spencer for the lower house of the legislature.

Mr. W. W. Wagon, of Louisville, Ky., was at the Ocala House Saturday. He is a fine grass specimen of a well-developed horse. His weight is 140 pounds.

Robert's Chill Tonic cures fevers, chills and malarial. It destroys the germ. We guarantee it. Price 25cts. Wm. Anderson.

The Ocala Banner does not consign to the waste basket unsigned or anonymously signed communications providing the subject matter is acceptable. It cares nothing for names but cares a great deal for well written articles on public occurrences.

We noted in these columns some days ago that Mr. Thos. R. Gary has become an enthusiast on the culture of the pecan. On Monday he inserted one hundred extra grafts on as many stocks. The growing of the pecan is a coming industry of Marion county.

THE CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION.

Grand Jurors Drawn and the Judge Delivers an Impressive Charge.

The spring term of the Circuit Court for 1902 began promptly Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Judge Bullock on the bench and all the court officials and members of the bar at their proper places. The thirty jurors summoned from various parts of the county responded to their names.

Mr. R. B. Erwin having been summoned under the name of Irvine was excused.

Under the law the thirty names are written on small slips of paper and eighteen names are drawn therefrom in open court by the judge, and the names of said eighteen persons constitute the grand jury. This provision of the law was observed and the following names drawn from the box: M. L. Payne, C. A. Liddon, A. P. Baskin, W. P. Williamson, M. P. Frink, J. W. Reynolds, W. E. Nix, Frank Lytle, J. D. Price, J. O. Dillard, B. L. Lewis, J. B. Griner, J. L. Parramore, C. F. Hayes, S. M. Niblack, E. A. Smith, Burrell Redding and W. W. Geiger.

Under our statute law the grand jury retires to a private room and selects its own foreman. This form of the law was observed and Hon. M. L. Payne, of Fairfield, was made foreman, which, considering the names of those composing the grand jury may well be considered an honor.

When the jury returned to the court room and announced the selection of a foreman, Judge Bullock then delivered most impressively his charge. He dwelt at some length on the finances into which the grand jury is required to make very careful investigation. The court read at some length all the law relating to this subject. He next took up the subject of health, which the statutes make it his duty to call specifically to the attention of grand juries. He read the various sections of the law relating to same, especially to section 49, which was recently published in these columns.

Judge Bullock then read the oath that was administered to the jurors, and dwelt at some length on each separate paragraph. He said that very frequently men holding influential positions escaped punishment, while the low, humble, needy and friendless were unjustly convicted. He said that under our law and under the oath administered to the grand jury this should not be. That the law is blind to all these things and is intended to give the same protection to one as to another, and that no man should be indicted through envy, hate or malice, or escape punishment through love, favor or affection, or any improper influence whatever.

He cautioned, however, the grand jury against bringing in indictments unless the members were satisfied that there was sufficient evidence to convict the person before a petit jury. He said although the jury may be morally conscious of the guilt of a party, it were best not to bring in an indictment unless the evidence was sufficient for conviction, because by so doing it would be burdensome to the tax payers, and would result in the accomplishment of no good purpose. That it were better that ninety-nine guilty men escape than that one innocent man should suffer punishment.

The grand jury then retired and the civil docket was then sounded and is as follows: T. C. T. Taliaferro vs. A. Laurent, et al.

H. L. Anderson, trustee, vs. the Florida Central and Peninsular Railway Company.

James Rosenheim vs. J. L. Wells & Co.

L. P. Olin and husband vs. S. R. Estep.

Jean K. Austin vs. Frank A. Teague.

James W. Sanders vs. Fidelity and Deposit Company.

H. F. Button & Co., vs. Frederick Gesterding, et al.

C. W. Bartleson vs. R. J. Knight.

C. B. Rogers & Co., vs. D. H. Dun and son.

Geo. Giles vs. Jas. W. Sanders.

W. K. Zewadski vs. Candis P. McGrath, admx.

W. P. Fulton, as receiver, vs. Frederick Gesterding, et al.

The court announced that no criminal cases would be tried this week, and that all civil cases would be peremptorily disposed of as they are called.

The following is the criminal docket: State of Florida vs. Chorus Ovens.

State of Florida vs. Benjamin F. Lyons.

State of Florida vs. Richard Anderson.

State of Florida vs. William Jones and Edward Sweet.

State of Florida vs. Geo. Richardson.

State of Florida vs. Mart Thomas.

State of Florida vs. Agnes Jones.

State of Florida vs. Nicholas P. Myers and Robinson Myers.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine, and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Anti-Monopoly Drug Store. Trial bottles free.

The Golf Tournament.

The golf tournament, notice of which has been made in these columns, was begun Friday.

In the morning the gentlemen's scratch contest took place. They played twice around the links—eighteen holes—with the result that Mr. George K. Robinson and Mr. David S. Williams, sr., tied for the cup. Mr. Robinson's score was 46-48 and Mr. Williams' 45-49. They played off the tie in the afternoon and Mr. Robinson won the cup and Mr. Williams, the second prize. Mr. T. B. Bright, of Toronto, Canada, won the third prize.

In the afternoon the ladies' scratch contest was played.

Miss Emily Stotsbury won the cup with a score of 56. Miss Louise Gamsby won the second prize, score 60, and Miss Minnie Gamsby, the third prize, score 63.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Anti-Monopoly Drug Store. dwt

A Fine Pecan.

I send you by mail a specimen of what Ocala, Marion County, and Florida can do in the pecan business. This is not a picked nut, but is of average size. —Thos. R. Gary, Ocala, Fla. The nut measured 1 7-8 inches in length and an inch in diameter; the meat was of delicious quality and plump; the shell of medium thinness. —Times Union and Citizen.

A Big Ocala Industry.

A day or two ago the editor of this paper took occasion to visit the northern limits of Ocala, and made a note of the various industries in successful operation in that portion of the city.

Tuesday, in company with Col. L. P. Miller, he visited the manufacturing establishment of George Giles & Company, which is located near the Ocala Steam Laundry and the Electric Light Plant, and was amazed at the business carried on by this unpretentious firm. From a single cotton gin, only a few seasons ago, it has constantly enlarged until now it numbers seven.

It has also a machine for cleaning moss and another machine, which is said to be the only one in Florida, for hulling the velvet bean. This latter machine is now kept constantly busy. It hulls the beans very rapidly and very successfully.

Like the cotton seed, every portion of the velvet bean is destined to be made valuable. The hull is said to be as valuable as the bean and the meal made from the same, and the bean and the hull are used, or can be used, both as a feed and a fertilizer.

Yesterday this factory was kept busy all day long by different bean growers coming in, and all anxious to have their beans hulled at once, and the proprietor of this establishment told us that this was an every day occurrence. That he has more work than he can possibly do.

There is a grist-mill attachment and it was busy also.

The factory has two large engines and boilers and both are kept busy from early morning until late at night.

A casual examination of this concern showed that it did a business last year of more than $80,000 and this year expects to largely exceed $100,000.

This is the beginning of an industry that will add largely to the wealth and development of Ocala as a trade centre.

Ocala, in her struggle for commercial supremacy, is making commendable headway.
